Huh... that's weird.

I thought I had my shoes on...

I might have a fever or something ...

That would be Hayato's fault.

Thanks, Hayato.

For giving me the OK...

Ahh ...

Siedhr says:
The design on the main character dude kind of reminds me of Ginko of Mushishi. Don't know why. And I hope this manga will be at least half as good as Mushishi is. Enjoy this new series from us! ^_^

zindryr says:
So, here we are, and another new series being translated by yours truly. What the hell am I doing to myself? Seriously, someone hire me and start paying me for this stuff. Or at least consider it. Hell, not even as a translator would work, just tell me to find new series that are marketable and I'll do it.

Oh, supposed to talk about this new series. Uh, it's pretty awesome.

nemy123 says:
I'm having cleaning nightmares. Humongous colorspreads haunting me in my dreams. Magnificent.

LoktarOgar says:
If I recall correctly, Companion was the first or second thing I ever typeset. The other option being My Balls chapter 3. This should give you somewhat of an indication as to how long the cleaners have taken to do little more than just the colour spread. Around 90% of all praise for this chapter should be aimed at them.

danien says:
I hugged a pine tree at high velocity while snowboarding and injured my wrist...but I still worked on Companion! Haha leechers, take THAT for dedication. I just hope working on that double colour spread didn't permenantly damage my hand...

Devin says:
Wow this took a long time to release. Also, I know this credits page is awesome, so don't die of sensory overload :D
